

ASEAN New Energy Charging Stations

As of mid-, the region hosts approximately 15,000 public charging stations, with Thailand and Indonesia leading the deployment, yet this infrastructure supports only a fraction of the projected 500,000 EVs on roads by year-end. As part of the 58 th ASEAN Day celebration activities, Secretary-General of ASEAN, Dr. Kao Kim Hourn, together with the Ambassador of the Republic of Korea to ASEAN, H.E. Lee Jang-keun, officiated the launch of the ASEAN Headquarters/ASEAN Secretariat's electric vehicles (EVs) and charging stations. The electric vehicle (EV) has been regarded as a key player in decarbonising the transportation sector. The EV market in the ASEAN region recorded a value of USD 498.93 million in , which ASEAN member states are working towards a standardized electric vehicle (EV) policy to accelerate the region's transition to clean energy and strengthen sustainability initiatives.

Investment, Trade, and Industry Minister Tengku Datuk Seri Zafrul Abdul Aziz revealed that discussions are already underway among senior officials and leaders, focusing on Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam. The Council utilizes the results of its research and analysis to provide educational programs, technical information suited for sharing their time and expertise throughout this project. Our special appreciation to Marc Mealy, Tina Southeast Asia's electric vehicle (EV) charging infrastructure market is undergoing a transformative evolution, propelled by rapid urbanization, policy-driven incentives, and a burgeoning demand for sustainable mobility.
